THRIVE

Communication, Regulation & Independence

An individualized, relationship-based developmental program for autistic and neurodivergent learners
Pre-K through High School

We See the Whole Child.

Your child is more than a diagnosis, a behavior, a test score, or a difficult day. THRIVE builds communication, regulation, relationships, confidence, self-advocacy, participation, and independence — without asking your child to become someone else.

What is THRIVE?

THRIVE is an individualized, relationship-based program informed by the research and principles of the SCERTS Model (Social Communication, Emotional Regulation, and Transactional Support). It supports the whole learner through intentional communication, emotional and sensory regulation, self-advocacy, relationships, participation, and growing independence.

While ABA primarily uses behavioral principles to teach skills and change observable behavior, THRIVE also asks us to look beneath that behavior and ask:

"What is this learner trying to communicate, and what support do they need?"

Through one-on-one and small-group sessions, multisensory experiences, structured activities, natural interactions, communication supports, and guided practice, THRIVE addresses the needs of the whole learner.

Eligibility is based on the learner's individual developmental and support needs — not a diagnosis alone.

What Progress May Look Like

- ✓ Communicating needs, choices, and feelings more effectively
- ✓ Managing transitions with greater flexibility
- ✓ Building peer interaction and meaningful relationships
- ✓ Increasing participation, confidence, and independence
- ✓ Recovering more effectively after overwhelm or stress
- ✓ Following routines with stronger self-regulation
- ✓ Using self-advocacy skills to ask for what they need
- ✓ Greater engagement in learning and community activities

Who Can Participate?

- ✓ Autistic and other neurodivergent learners
- ✓ Children through adolescents (Pre-K – High School)
- ✓ Learners who benefit from individualized, developmental support
- ✓ Families seeking a strengths-based, relationship-centered approach

The THRIVE Framework

Six Core Areas for Whole-Child Development

Talk & Communicate

- Functional communication
- AAC and communication supports
- Social communication
- Self-expression

Handle & Regulate

- Emotional and sensory regulation
- Coping strategies
- Flexibility and resilience

Relate & Connect

- Relationships and peer interaction
- Shared engagement
- Belonging

Independence & Self-Advocacy

- Choices and boundaries
- Daily living skills
- Self-advocacy and asking for help

Versatility Across Environments

- Using skills across people, places, and routines (home, school, and community)

Engage & Participate

- Active learning
- Meaningful participation
- Community involvement
- Confidence and sense of purpose

Why Families Choose THRIVE

- ✓ Relationships and trust are at the heart of everything we do
- ✓ A strengths-based, neurodiversity-affirming approach
- ✓ Individualized goals and ongoing progress monitoring
- ✓ Family collaboration and support across settings
- ✓ A safe, supportive, and engaging learning environment

"It's not about changing who they are, but giving them the tools to be their most confident, independent selves."
